
Fiume The B.R. pattern pattern identified from Fi- ume in- cluded in our foreign catalog report in March has been identified as the pattern used by Banco di Roma, fairly commonly found on the stamps of Italy (from Milano, Trieste, and Rovingo), but probably best known on the stamps of Lebanon. It was in use from around 1930 to 1941 in Beirut, according to Magnus Werner (#1308), who provided the connection to Fiume. Now here's a quick question for you. Without looking at Scott or a map, do you know where Fiume is located?
